BRAVE DEFENDER OF HER OWN HOME WITH EMPTY GUN

Miss Anna Temple Twice Repulses Attempt of Tramp to Enter House.

All Alone When He Declares He Will Get in.

HER WEAPON WAS HARMLESS

Maxon Mills, June 12. (Special.)—Excited by an unknown tramp who demanded entrance to the house, Miss Anna Temple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Temple, held the ruffian at bay with an empty shotgun twice yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Although she did not know the gun was unloaded, Miss Temple pluckily stood her ground, and with an admonition not to touch the door, drove him from the residence.

Miss Temple is the pretty 18-year-old daughter of Mr. Adam Temple, the miller, and yesterday afternoon when her parents left on a visit she latched the screen door and went upstairs. About 3 o'clock she heard the side gate creak and looking out the window saw a white man, roughly dressed, entering the gate. She went downstairs and when the stranger inquired for the mistress of the house, Miss Temple thoughtlessly said that she was alone. The man became insolent, and called to her to open the door. Instead of responding Miss Temple reached for the shotgun, and with it upraised, told him to leave the porch. The man hesitated, but when she pulled the hammer back he left and went to the road.

Without displaying any nervousness Miss Temple went upstairs and was resting from her shock, when she heard a noise at the front door again. Picking up her gun she went downstairs again. The same stranger was trying to force the screen door. Once more raising the gun Miss Temple told him the best thing he could do was leave. He gruffly replied that he had come to get in and would succeed. Both hammers were pulled back and calmly Miss Temple told him to leave or she would shoot and kill him. With a few insulting remarks the man shuffled down the road while Miss Temple was mistress of the situation.

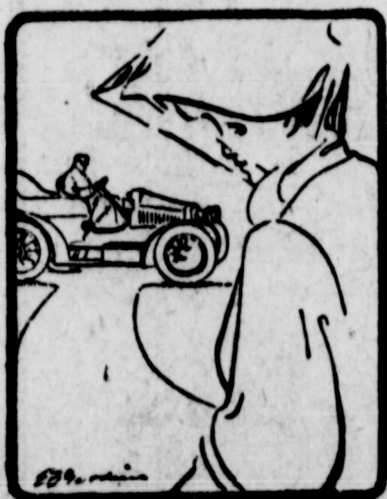

The mill is a short distance from the home, but the employees did not know of the tramp's presence. He soon left the place, as he was not seen any more in the vicinity. When Mr. Temple returned he examined the gun and found both barrels empty, but it served as a good bluff.

SALESMAN MAKES CHANGE.

Mr. Hugh Thomas Wins Deserved Recognition.

Mr. Hugh Thomas, who for the past ten years has been connected with Wallerstein Bros., has resigned his position with this well known firm to accept a position as traveling salesman for Webb-Phillips & company. During his many years with Wallerstein Bros. He will cover the southern territory for Webb-Phillips & company and will enter upon his new duties July 1.

Richard Tolbert, Illinois Central Special Agent, is Drowned While Seining Fish in Twin Lakes Today

He Becomes Exhausted While Swimming With Rope in Water and Goes Down—His Body Recovered.

Exhausted from a swim of about 200 yards, Dick Tolbert, special police officer for the Illinois Central railroad, was drowned this morning at 8 o'clock at the Twin lakes on the farm of Robert Noble, about six miles from Paducah.

Although his friends were on the bank and frantic efforts were used to rescue him, he went down twice. His body was recovered in about six minutes and despite nearly an hour's work by his companions, life never returned. His body was brought to the city this afternoon and Coroner Frank Baker will hold the inquest this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parlors of Mattli, Efinger & Roth.

Tolbert, with thirteen members of the Illinois Central fishing club, of which he was president, left Paducah this morning at 4:30 o'clock for the lakes. They reached the lakes about 6 o'clock and began arranging their seines. Only four of the party could swim, and while some members of the party were seining with a small net for minnows, Tolbert, Clarence Ellithorpe, George Hart and Rome Smith, who could swim, were dragging the big seine. Whenever it caught on a snag the four would dive and loosen it. Tolbert was a large man and he had become exhausted.

Tolbert, J. W. Smith and T. J. Hart went and sat on a limb for some time. Smith started across the lake with a rope in his mouth, but became tired and dropped the rope and swam to the bank. Hart followed and then Tolbert plunged in for his last swim. He picked up the rope and tried to loosen it from the limb by tugging, but seeing he was tired, the party called for him to cross. When he reached the middle, about 35 feet from the bank he cried, "Boys, you will have to come and get me." His companions thought he was joking, but the wind from the north carried him down the lake. Suddenly he regained his poise, and swam back about 20 feet, while his companions called to him to see if he was in danger.

Tried to Save Him.

He called for help once more and his companions were startled. G. T. Brookshire grabbed a rope and threw to him, but in the excitement the end slipped out of his hand and sank, while Tolbert grabbed the other end. Seeing the seriousness, Clarence Ellithorpe jumped into the lake. He cramped and was pulled back by his companions, who joined hands. Spurred on once more, Ellithorpe jumped in holding to a rope and when nearly to the place where Tolbert went under he was seized by cramps, and he was pulled back strangling. Other members of the party

PARADE WILL NOT BE PERMITTED AT EDDYVILLE MEETING TOMORROW EVENING

County Authorities Believe it is Part Plan of Intimidation.

Kuttawa, Ky., June 12.—(Special.)—If incendiary speeches are made tomorrow and the proposed parade is turned into a demonstration of lawlessness, County Judge Crumbaugh said he will line the route with soldiers, armed and ready to control the situation. The situation in Lyon county, and particularly Eddyville, is delicate, and the people and authorities are nervous over the outcome of the meeting tomorrow, which is ostensibly for the purpose of bringing harmony between the Planters' Protective association, the Farmers' union and the people, and clearing up the situation, regarding the presence of soldiers in the county.

A big crowd from this and adjoining counties is expected and a parade of 2,000 or 3,000 people was planned. Sheriff Cash, however, a member of the committee in charge, opposes a parade and says he will wash his hands of the whole affair, while County Judge Crumbaugh and County Attorney Krone swear the whole program is a scheme to intimidate the supporters of law and order and to create feeling against the soldiers and those officers, who are doing their duty.

It was first thought the promoters were sincere in their purpose to uphold the law; but the county officials have come to the conclusion that the purpose is otherwise. Incendiary speeches, it is said, will be put down

BELMONT'S DAUGHTER.
Galveston, Texas, June 12.—A woman, calling herself Sarah Belmont Clarke, claims to be the only daughter of the late Oliver H. P. Belmont. She announced that she is going to New York to claim his estate. She asserts she has documentary proof of her identity.

jumped in and lines were formed by joining hands, but Tolbert never came to the surface a third time. Rome Smith tried to swim but could not, and Arthur Johnson made three dives, but could not find Tolbert's body.

The men at the head of the lake were called, and George Hart dived with a rope and tied it to Tolbert's right leg. He was pulled in and his body was still warm. With all the energy they possessed the men rolled him and tried to get respiration started, but to no avail.

At 9 o'clock Coroner Frank Baker was notified and he went out and took charge of the body. Dick Tolbert was familiarly known and liked by every employee of the Illinois Central shops, and as an officer he had a splendid record. He was clever, and an air of good humor always pervaded his presence. He had been special officer for the railroad for ten years.

Tolbert was a large man, and as he had on heavy shoes and clothing, the effort of swimming so long was too much. His companions say he did not cramp, although the water was chilly. With him were Clarence Ellithorpe, George Hart, Rome Smith, Guy Parks, Mack Beam, G. T. Brookshire, J. M. Ford, Joe Ford, John Smith, Herbert Averett, Tom Hart, Robert Fisher and J. R. Rutter. Tolbert liked the sport of fishing and arranged the last trip today himself, as the shops were closed.

Mr. Tolbert leaves a wife and three children: Dorothy, Dixie and Gracie. He has one brother, Lally Tolbert, who is in the city. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Mr. Tolbert was a member of the Paducah lodge of Masons and the funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masons.

Paris, June 12.—It is announced that Mme. Gould and Prince de Sagen signed their wedding contract yesterday. It is expected the wedding will be within a fortnight. It will be a protestant ceremony as the pope won't recognize Mme. Gould's divorce.

HEROIC CONDUCT OF TWO BOYS IN RESCUING FRIEND

Vernis Smith, Ten Years Old, Saves John Kelly, Who Fainted While Fishing

Youth Fell Into Lake Head First From Skiff.

MAY GET CARNEGIE MEDALS

Heath, Ky., June 12.—(Special.)—Overcome with heat while fishing on Metropolis lake, John Kelly, of Lamont, fell into the lake yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and after a brave fight was rescued by Vernis Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Smith, of 2012 Jefferson street, Paducah, assisted by Ray Kelly. After reaching the shore with Kelly the two boys succeeded in reviving him in a short time, and he was carried home before the news of his narrow escape from drowning had spread. Today he is all right but suffers somewhat from the shock owing to his weakened condition.

Kelly is 19 years old and with his cousin, Ray Kelly, 16 years old, and Vernis Smith, 14 years old, went to the lake yesterday afternoon to fish. John Kelly and Vernis Smith got into a skiff, and with their lines out were floating over the lake. Ray Kelly was fishing from the bank. John Kelly was sitting in the back of the boat and as he is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever the hot sun caused him to faint. He fell apparently lifeless into the water with his head out of sight. Vernis Smith jumped from the boat and bravely held Kelly's head above the water, which came to his own chin.

He called for Ray Kelly, who quickly swam to the boat, and reached Smith, who was almost exhausted from holding Kelly out of the water.

With wonderful self-control the two boys carried him out of the water to the bank, where in a few minutes he was revived. The trip to the bank was a dangerous one, as there are steepoffs, but they were able to walk in safety. Metropolis lake is about 15 miles from Paducah, and at the time of the mishap there was no one near the three boys.

The boys tell the story with modesty, but already their friends are talking of steps toward securing a Carnegie hero medal for their brave deed. The proper papers will be prepared, presented to the commission and it is believed they will get the medals.

Vernis Smith lives with his parents at 2012 Jefferson street, and when he went to the country on a visit he was cautioned not to go near the lake.

GET ALL THEY ASK

J. S. Ross, one of McCracken county's delegates to the Lexington state Democratic convention and candidate for elector in the First district, was the first to arrive home this morning. Mr. Ross says that McCracken county delegates got everything they wanted after they arrived at the convention. It was generally thought in the convention that had Beckham forced the fight on the chairmanship, he would not even have been sent to Denver as a delegate at large from Kentucky.

PACKING PLANT BURNS TO ASHES IN FLOOD MIDST

Kansas City, June 12.—The Nelson Morris packing plant caught fire this morning. It is in the center of the flooded district surrounded by water, making it difficult to fight the flames. The building was erected in 1903 after the flood and cost a million dollars. Another building was destroyed at a loss of $150,000. Small intervening buildings were dynamited to prevent the spread of the flames.

The fire loss will be $350,000. Two workmen were killed and two hurt in the explosion of a tank of ammonia which started the fire.

Loss of Crops.
St. Louis, June 12.—The Mississippi is still rising. Thousands of acres and miles of railroad tracks are under water. The crest of the Missouri flood is expected Sunday. The loss to crops is $50,000.

No Equivocation Manifested in National Platform of Republican Party on Issues of the Campaign

Attorney General Wade Ellis, of Ohio, in Terse English Sets Forth Principles and Policies.

Chicago, June 12.—The committee seated the Taft delegates in the remaining Texas districts and is considering Virginia and West Virginia, and expects to close today.

It is believed the credentials committee will approve the report after short hearings and the convention will get organized quickly. Taft's friends announce their platform of appeals to the intelligence rather than the prejudice of voters. It breathes Roosevelt's spirit but uses milder language. It indorses Roosevelt, contains an anti-injunction plank, favors increasing the navy, indirectly outlines the Japanese policy.

Hughes' victory in the racing fight makes him a favorite for vice president, if he'll accept, and the New York delegation is willing.

Taft delegates at large and in the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth Virginia districts were seated. It is announced that James G. Cannon, president of the Fourth National bank of New York, will succeed Cornelius Bliss as the treasurer of the national committee.

Hughes Not in the Race.

Albany, N. Y., June 12.—Governor Hughes, through his secretary, announced that he will not accept the nomination for vice president.

The Platform.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—Now that practically all the contested cases are out of the way and the nomination of Taft on the first ballot is assured, the administration forces have set themselves seriously to work on the platform.

Soldier Wins Bride in Trigg Co.

Tuesday afternoon he and Miss Campbell drove back to Trigg Furnace, where they were united in marriage.

Miss Campbell is about 18 years of age and a very attractive young lady. She is the daughter of Mrs. Franklin Oliver, of the Rock Castle neighborhood. Young Smith left Rock Castle Tuesday night on the steamer Buttorn, in company with the rest of his company, for his home in the mountains, leaving his young bride at the hotel in Rock Castle, and expects to return in about ten days for her.

WILL HANDLE FERRY TRADE FOR BETTIE

Arrangements have been made for the gasoline boat Ondine carrying a barge to take the place of the ferryboat Bettie Owen, while she is on the marine ways for repairs. The new boat will be commanded by Captain John Coles and will make her first trip tomorrow morning and will run on the same schedule as the Bettie Owen. The arrangements will prove quite a convenience to the farmers across the river, and will be of great benefit to business interests of the city, which have suffered since the Bettie Owen was forced to the bank for repairs.

Attorney-General Ellis has, however, a peculiar and valuable knack for putting things into terse, unmistakable English and his services were early enlisted by Secretary Taft for this purpose.

In the first place it may be stated unequivocally that the tentative platform is straightforward and to the point. Many of the principles are stated in the general terms as absolutely necessary and wholly wise, but there is no equivocation, no subtlety to catch votes, no dodging. Any

GEOLOGIST MAKES ■ INVESTIGATION OF FLUOR SPAR

Going to Inspect Deposits of Mineral in Southern Illinois Next Week.

Kentucky Led Until She Was Discriminated Against.

IS USED IN MAKING STEEL

Assistant State Geologist F. Julius Fohs was in the city today on his way to southern Illinois where he will investigate the fluor spar deposits and mines of that section. Mr. Fohs stated that he could not give a comprehensive report on the Kentucky mineral field until he had gathered data on fluor spar mining in other states. Kentucky, which lead in the production of this mineral for ten years, has recently lost first place to Illinois, but the reason for it is found in a discriminating freight rate, rather than in any larger deposits in that state.

Illinois miners of fluor spar had an advantage of $1 a ton in freight rates over Kentucky, until the interstate commerce commission last year reduced it to 60 cents, but even this 40 per cent reduction gives Illinois a large advantage. Kentucky has larger deposits of fluor spar than any state or country in North America and other things being equal would have the largest production. Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell counties contain the principal veins, though Lyon, Hopkins and Christian counties have mines. The veins are found at the surface and go down 2,000 feet in places, though no Kentucky mine is over 260 feet deep. In width, the veins vary from two inches to 36 feet. Colorado, Arizona and Tennessee also produce this mineral.

Fluor spar is used in steel-making, and especially in the new Basic Open Hearth method of steel-manufacture, which is rapidly becoming the leading commercial steel. It is considered better than the Bessemer or acid open hearth methods, and 80 per cent of the total fluor spar production is now consumed in the new process. Rails made from this process are replacing all others in railroad repair and construction.

Mr. Fohs is specializing on fluor spar at this time, but his researches cover the entire mineral deposits of Kentucky. He gathers data on production, mining methods and other information relevant to the industry which is published for the benefit of the citizens of the state. By availing themselves of these bulletins, many citizens who go blindly into mining ventures, could gain knowledge that would change the industry from a gamble to a scientific certainty. Kentucky is rich in almost every mineral except gold and silver. The western section leads in production now, but the eastern section promises to outstrip it, once development becomes general.

BASKET PLANT SALE IS SET ASIDE AGAIN

Judge Walter Evans today again set aside the sale of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Manufacturing company plant to F. E. Lack for $34,075, and the plant must again be advertised and sold. Paducah lawyers, representing the purchasers and bondholders who did not want the sale confirmed, argued the case before Judge Evans in Louisville this morning. Information about the decision did not state when the next sale would be held.

Cured Chronic Dyspepsia

Mr. Alex. K. Kessler, of St. Louis, Mo., praises Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for completely curing him of dyspepsia and stomach troubles, which were of long standing. He strongly recommends Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for all stomach troubles.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark "The Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Dr. R. Curran, Consulting Physician, for free illustrated medical booklet and free advice. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THE FAVORITE SON PRESIDENTIAL SERIES

Some Familiar Sketches By Washington Correspondent of the United Press.

Washington, June 12.—The things best known about Robert M. La Follette are: That he is a reformer who has figured in Wisconsin for a number of years; that he has been governor of that state and is now a member of the United States senate; that he lives on nuts and vegetables instead of meat and potatoes; that he does the Chautauqua circuit profitably during the summer time; that the railroads hate him; that members of the United States senate are not fond of him; that he makes a good speech; that he is opposed to the vested interests and that all railroad men think he wears horns and horns.

He has been in political life for 28 years, during which time he served three consecutive terms in the lower branch of congress, and three times as governor. He was defeated for re-election to the house in 1890, and that year marked the beginning of his remarkable struggle against the domination of railroad and other corporations in the politics of Wisconsin.

varied. They included house to house campaigning, many defeats, patronage bribes and even offers of money by corporations interested in getting him out of their way. In one instance, it is alleged, the nomination for governor was stolen from him by the purchase of delegates. But at length his strength with the people became so overwhelming that he was nominated and elected.

During his service as governor, La Follette was so successful in his propaganda of reform that an honest majority was secured in the legislature and laws were enacted compelling the valuation of railroads and other quasi-public corporate property and revising the taxes of these corporations so that they have been compelled to pay more nearly their just proportion. A primary election law for senatorial and other nominations was passed. A good law was secured covering the grant of street railway franchises to municipal corporations in the state and permitting a vote by the people on all such important privileges.

Having cleaned house in his own state, La Follette decided to enter a broader field, and in 1905 he was elected to the United States senate to succeed Joseph B. Quarles, and took his seat January 4, 1906.

That La Follette would be ineffectual as a member of the United States senate was the prediction freely made by his numerous enemies. The powerful interests which he had antagonized in his own state feared and resented his presence in the United States senate.

Disappointed Enemies.

He has disappointed his enemies no less than he has pleased his friends. Those who believed that he would be content to make a noise and let it go at that have found that they were mistaken. Others who thought that he would render himself useless by ill-advised personal attacks or undignified conduct have found they were equally in error. On the other hand, the smooth, diplomatic gentlemen who run the senate have found it impossible to move La Follette from his regular course of action by soft speech, promises or hopes of any kind of reward. Neither offices nor tendered appointments on important committees, nor pleasant social relations have been effectual in swerving La Follette from the course he had mapped out.

Senator La Follette has constituted himself a very important minority of one. In this capacity he objects to bad legislation and uses his objections to secure what is possible of good legislation, and the fact that the senate does business practically by unanimous consent, has made La Follette's legislative independence a potent factor in the law making power.

The best speech on the administration's railroad rate law was that delivered by Senator La Follette. He is responsible for more amendments to that law as it now stands on the books than any single member of the senate. His long fight with the railroads in Wisconsin had given him a wonderful preparation to deal with this subject intelligently and forcefully. President Roosevelt acknowledged the assistance rendered by La Follette in this fight, and several of the latter's amendments were adopted by the administration before they were presented in the senate.

Senator La Follette was a pioneer in the work of saving the public utilities. In the fifty-ninth congress he exposed an effort by the Standard Oil company to acquire the oil and mineral lands in the then territory of Oklahoma and Indian Territory. He prepared, but was unable to secure the passage of an excellent law to protect the rights of the government, and thus of the people, in coal and mineral lands which still are part of the public domain. He aided the passage of the meat inspection law, the pure food law, the employers' liability law and practically all the good legislation enacted in the Fifty-ninth congress.

In the sixtieth congress La Follette single handedly defeated the original Aldrich currency bill. He held that the bill was intended primarily to create a market for railroad securities which had been corrupted by Rockefeller, Morgan, Ryan and a few other New York capitalists and at Senator La Follette's demand the so-called "railroad bond feature" of the Aldrich bill was stricken out.

A record of this character had its natural effect in drawing upon the hatred of La Follette the bitter enmity of nine-tenths of the members of the senate. He found himself the object of a conspiracy fostered by the "Old Guard," the object of which was to "segregate" him. The leaders of the senate apparently agreed to speak to him once during the day, but otherwise to ignore his presence as a member of that body. This has, however, made no difference to the Wisconsin senator, who has gone on with his self-appointed task of being a thorn in the side of those who he believes represent the vested interests.

TEACHERS IN NO HURRY TO TAKE EXAMINATIONS.

For two days no teachers of the public schools have been before the board of medical examiners, and the board has decided to discontinue holding the examinations until after the return of Superintendent J. A. Carnegie. Superintendent Carnegie has gone to Madison, Ind., Lexington, Frankfort and Bowling Green and will not return for ten days. Only four of the teachers have been examined, and each one has passed the physical examination.

Right Food Gives Strength and Brain Power.

The natural elements of wheat and barley, including the phosphate of potash, are found in Grape-Nuts, and that is why persons who are run down from improper food pick up rapidly on Grape-Nuts.

"My system was run down by excessive night work," writes a N. Y. man, "in spite of a liberal supply of ordinary food."

"After using Grape-Nuts I noticed improvement at once, in strength, and nerve and brain power."

"This food seemed to lift me up and stay with me for better exertion, with less fatigue. My weight increased 20 lbs. with vigor and comfort in proportion."

"When traveling I always carry the food with me to insure having it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"SOLDIERING" PROBLEM.

Employees Who Shirk Their Work. Big Leak in Industries.

The question of "soldiering"—shirking work and idling on the part of employees—is a problem every employer who carries a pay-roll of any proportions has constantly to face. The "soldiering" exists in any plant where a large number of employees engaged cannot be disputed. How to prevent it, how to stimulate employees to turn out an honest day's work for an honest day's wages is the perplexing point.

As any manufacturer knows, labor is the principal element of cost in almost every variety of commercial work. In some lines of manufacturing it amounts to 50 to 60 and even 80 per cent. of the entire cost of production. In office work the labor is the total cost, while in selling the finished product it amounts to from 3 to 50 per cent. of the article sold. Hence it will readily be seen that the necessity of getting the full quota of work from each employee is of vital importance to the employer who would have a balance on the right side of the ledger at the end of the year.

"Soldiering" is one of the biggest leaks in the modern plant. Not only does the slow worker waste his time, but he impedes the work of his associates and should five or six employees waste, say, one-fifth of one-sixth of their time, it becomes necessary to employ an additional laborer, and that means the installation of another machine and additional floor space, light, heat and record work in the office.

In speaking of this demoralizing practice a prominent employer of Chicago—a man whose pay-roll carries thousands of names—recently expressed the opinion that the most efficient remedy for this commercial disease, if it may be so termed, was to offer a reward. Make the employees profit sharers with the em-

William Penn

AMONG all the builders of this Nation none deserve more lasting gratitude than this stout old Quaker Champion.

Irish and English prisons could not conquer his spirit, and from a cell in the tower of London he conceived the idea of founding beyond the seas a state wherein Brotherly Love—Peace On Earth and Personal Liberty might become living facts. Thus Pennsylvania was founded.

When colonial governor he introduced vine-growing and brewing, and at Pennbury Manor he had a brew house.

Above middle height—well built and agile—William Penn in his early days was an expert swordsman, a courageous soldier, and a splendid athlete.

He died at 74, and the results of his life's doings bear eloquent witness that the moderate use of a good malt beer helps to create the noblest qualities of mind and soul.

His statue stands in Philadelphia, 547 feet high—for all the world to see.

CITY SPRINKLING DISTRICTS MADE

Ordinance Committee Decides in Favor of Them.

Licenses Will Be Raised on All Lines of Business Next Year, is the Edict.

A BUSY SESSION LAST NIGHT

In a busy session last night the ordinance committee of the general council decided to bring in a number of ordinances. All of the city licenses will be raised, as the members of the committee thought that the present rates were too low in comparison with the licenses of other cities. The new ordinance will be drafted carefully, and every line of business will be covered so that there may be no loopholes. Licenses on one and on two horse wagons will be charged different rates.

The sprinkling district will be a go probably, as the committee will bring in an ordinance at the next meeting of the board. The streets that will be included in the ordinance have not been designated, but the ordinance committee agreed that the street committee should have the power to name the streets. Mayor Smith is heartily in favor of the ordinance and explained that it would be a protection to the gravel streets. The property owners on the streets that are in the sprinkling district will pay a per cent of the cost.

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., was authorized to draft an ordinance creating the office of city buyer, prescribing his duties and salary. The power of appointing the city buyer will be given to the mayor and the presidents of the two boards.

For the relief of the merchants an ordinance will be brought in making it a violation of the ordinance to use mechanical instruments in the business district during the day. This will put a ban on electric pianos and phonographs, but will permit the moving picture shows to use their musical instruments after business hours. Alderman Stewart said that nine-tenths of the merchants were on the warpath because of the noise. The instruments have been played every afternoon.

Ice Dealers.

Ice dealers also come within the meaning of the ordinance, and the promiscuous ringing of the bells will be prohibited. The bell may be rung one time at each house, but to slap the clapper any more will mean a fine of from $5 to $10.

The fire stations may not be used again for voting or on registration days, as an ordinance will be brought in making the stations be used for only fire fighting. Mayor Smith explained to the committee that it was dangerous to have the telephones used for all purposes, as some one might be calling up for the announcement of the vote, and an alarm of fire might be delayed several minutes.

Everybody must be vaccinated in Paducah if the general council will pass the ordinance that the committee will present. This precaution will be taken by the city fathers to prevent an epidemic of smallpox or any contagious disease.

The ordinance providing for the improvement of Tenth street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue will be repealed. The city purchased the property from Mrs. T. H. Puryear, and in the ordinance the agreement was violated by the city.

An ordinance will be brought in for the improvement of the alley between Tennessee, Jones, Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets. The property owners have agreed to stand the expense of graveling the alley.

The committee was given further time for an investigation before striking the words "tobacco broker" from the city license ordinance.

Alderman Stewart brought up the matter of having the ordinance committee meet twice a month instead of once. The members thought it advisable and will meet the Monday night after each regular council meeting.

Present at the meeting last night were: Aldermen Stewart and Hank, and Councilmen Van Meter and Kreutzer.

WILL BE GUESTS OF MANAGER WILLIAM MALONE TONIGHT.

Hutton-Bailey Stock Company Making Good With Fine Repertoire of Modern Plays.

The Sun's newsboys will be the guests of Manager Malone at Wallace park tonight to witness the performance of the Hutton-Bailey Stock company.

Last night the Hutton-Bailey Stock company played to a large audience. The play was a sensational one, entitled "Why She Was Sacrificed." It told a strong and interesting story, giving one of the best portrayals of scenes at the world's greatest gambling resort, Monte Carlo. There is a strong vein of comedy running through the play. The specialties by Forbes & Forbes, Little Bernice, Isabel Rolfs-Bailey and Lawrence Hammer were good and it is a mystery how a company playing at cheap prices can afford to carry such a number of high class vaudeville artists. Tonight the company will present their feature bill, "Why Women Love," a play that appeals to all classes of theater-goers, who like a clean and wholesome play. There is no doubt but that "Why Women Love" will soon be firmly established as one of the most original and interesting of modern dramas. The author has long been famous as a playwright, but in the present instance has surpassed himself for ingenuity, strength and brilliancy. He has poured out the entire store of knowledge and experience acquired by a two-year stay in Russia, where he mingled with all classes of society. He also became associated with that famous and most powerful secret organization, "The Nihilists." The characters are all finely drawn, action is quick, interesting and absorbing and has plenty of comedy and pathos that is sincere. "Why Women Love" is one of the strongest and best plays on the stage today. The management promises an entire change of specialties with an extra vaudeville feature for tonight.

Daily Thought.

I wasted time and now time doth waste me.—Shakespeare.

What a strong team—Taft and Hughes would make.

The distinctive feature of the director's gown, as we understand it, is the way it is cut.

There is one true note of hope in the reconciliation of Bryan and Watson: If the man who said as many mean things about Bryan and his fitness for office as Henry Watson has, can become reconciled to Bryan's candidacy, most anybody else can.

HORSE RACING AND GAMBLING.
 Governor Hughes, of New York, has won his fight against race track gambling. It is a pity the average man can't enjoy a horse race without betting on the result; but the men who make their living at the race track trimming suckers and pulling races, say he can't, and those men ought to know.

The truth, as is a fair gambling proposition the race course long ago fell into disrepute. The temptation to pull a favorite and let a long shot win has been so great that every possible safeguard has been thrown around the racing game to prevent cheating, and still fast horses, carrying the public's money, lose unaccountably some times. Gambling has produced everything that is pernicious about horse racing. Horses will run just as fast, and be bred just as clean limbed and sound of wind without the bookmakers' presence at the track side. If a man loves horses and likes to see them run, the conditions under which they will be unchanged with the elimination of the gambling side line.

If a man just naturally loves to gamble and goes to the race track, because he can bet on horses, he is entitled to no consideration and his plea that he is a lover of horses is false. Race track gambling has become a profession, and there never was a square professional gambling institution; because one man makes a livelihood out of it, and the other takes a risk.

In substantiation of the fact that Governor Hughes is not just a fanatic, but is guided by sound judgment, merchants of Louisville presented a memorial to the state government asking that the racing time in that city be limited. Just running horses around the track did not hurt the commercial interests of Louisville; the time spent at the track did not disturb the prosperity of the community, and the nominal admission fee did not drain the resources of the public. It was the gambling feature of Churchill Downs that collected into a pool money that should have gone for rent and food and clothing; that caused confidential clerks to be defaulter and that ruined homes.

The merchants of Louisville are not anti-gambling cranks. They did not discriminate between the racing and the betting; but they did recognize the fact that too much racing at Churchill Downs was bad for Louisville under the conditions then obtaining, and they asked that it be curtailed.

 We sincerely trust that the breed of horses will not suffer by reason of Governor Hughes' victory. We are quite sure that it will result, as Governor Hughes expressed it, in improving the breed of men. It may be true, that men will gamble. The same may be said of murder and burglary, but that is no reason for recognizing those crimes as legal. That's the moral aspect of it.

HOW ONE COUNTY IN OHIO BUILT GOOD ROADS.
 Paulding county in northwestern Ohio, has a population of about 28,000. Its boundaries include 258,984 acres. It has, by the last census, 3,783 farms, averaging 65.6 acres each, which means that only a little more than fifteen square miles of the county territory is included in towns and villages and not devoted to farming purposes. Paulding is principally an agricultural county, says the Good Roads Magazine.

Farm land in Paulding county was valued, ten years ago, at from $35 to $50 per acre. Today these same farms are worth from $60 to $150 per acre; an increase in round figures of from 200 to 300 per cent.
 The main reason for this advance in values in a strictly farming locality is the intelligent investment that has been made by the property owners in providing highways. Road building has proven the most valuable crop for these farms.

It was just ten years ago, May 9, 1898, that the first petition for an improved pike was filed with the county commissioners; this was for 7.75 miles. Since that time there have been improved 253.67 miles of highway, there are now under construction 25.22 miles, and there are 146.84 miles allowed by the commissioners which are to be built in the immediate future—a total of more than 425 miles of road provided for in ten years.

The hard roads of Paulding county have cost a large sum of money. In the past decade there has been paid, in principal and interest, for this purpose, by the farmers of this county, $800,000, and there is a bonded indebtedness at the present time of $573,284, which will bring the total cost, when these bonds with interest, are liquidated, to something like one and three-quarters million dollars. The first figures given, however, show that this investment has already paid, in the increased value of real estate, at least 200 per cent profit. And if from this cost should be deducted the amount of the annual expense and labor which had previously been appropriated for road work to no permanent purpose, the figures of profit would be even more impressive.

In doing their work of improvement, the taxpayers of Paulding county have operated upon a plan which is open to criticism, because it involved a question that never has been and, perhaps never can be adjusted to perfection.

The Paulding county solution of this problem is that one-third of the cost of construction shall be assessed to the county at large and the remaining two-thirds shall be paid by the property owners within two miles of either side or terminus of the improved road.

Score one for Percy Haly. He isn't a rat. It is said some of the fellows who have been lining off the Beckham administration deserted the former governor in his extremity.

ABATE THE MENACE.
 It is not the city's concern to look after the interests of the Standard Oil company. The only thing the citizens of Paducah are interested in, is getting those dangerous kerosene and gasoline tanks outside the city, where they can do no damage. The only possible damage to the company would be the expense of securing a site that is not menacing to the city and the longer haul for its wagons. We have nothing against the company and if its business was of such a character as to properly permit its storage tanks being in the heart of the city, we should not complain of its presence; but when it is such a menace that the fire chief protests, it is time for action in behalf of the property owners, residents and manufacturers of the city, regardless of inconvenience to the concern, causing the nuisance. When engine sparks set fire to this storage plant, 100 barrels of oil were charred, when there is a city ordinance, specifically prohibiting the storage of more than 50 barrels of oil in the city, with provisions for storing all over five barrels in a carefully lined underground warehouse. Consideration should be shown everybody in the matter of enforcing the law; but the citizens of Paducah must be shown as much consideration by the city authorities as they show the Standard Oil company, and more than the Standard Oil company has shown the city. Here is a plain case of menace to the property and lives of citizens, and there is only one thing to be done—that is abate the menace. The company is perfectly able to find a suitable location and to pay for it.

No Compromise.
 Lexington, June 12.—General Percy Haly made this statement today:

"The statement that the Beckham forces were consulted or agreed in any way to the program through which W. B. Haldeman, Mr. Beckham, Senator Paynter, Senator McCreary and Mr. Mayo go as delegates at large, is incorrect. The Beckham forces were not consulted and did not know anything about it. It is not a compromise or surrender. The other people are simply in control."

The band struck up "God Save the King." In token of the closing of the performance, and from where they were they could see the audience standing, in total ignorance of the presence of his majesty and unaware of the fact that a momentous interview, involving life and death, peace and war, and the welfare of empire was being conducted in a tiny overhanging box above them, while a leering mask of tragedy stared hollow-eyed from the stage as if in mockery. The king and the admiral were both on their feet, the one looking absent-mindedly through an aperture, his mind concentrated on the decision he must make and the other watching and waiting with breathless suspense. Below the throng began a steady movement toward the exits, constantly dissipating itself, and the house was almost emptied before the officer had his reply.

They stood for a moment, the King and the Admiral.

"Very well, you may come, and I shall have the others sent for at once."

Bevins gave a quick start of exultation; but his companion continued without a pause:
 "I shall be there within half an hour, and shall instruct the guard at the outer gate to admit you immediately on your arrival."

His companion held up a hand as if forgetting something. "If your majesty pleases, I should prefer that you instruct the guard at the private entrance leading from the garden in the rear."
 To this also the king assented, attributing it to a desire for concealment on the part of his companion, who almost at once made his adieu, passed out beyond the curtains, through the door, and joined the last of the lagging crowd. The fog had not abated, but seemed even more impenetrable than in the earlier hours of the evening and rendered traffic more difficult. Here and there came the glow and halation of an air light, dimly showing through a veil and lighting up a tiny radius in the gloom. A constable calling: "Keep close to the wall! Keep close to the wall!" his voice sounding from a long distance and muffled. Cabmen were silently shouting, and when Bevins came to the first street crossing he was almost run down by a slow-moving automobile whose eyes stared at him suddenly like those of a great beetle. It was the king driving to his residence.

At Buckingham palace, where the royal banner was waving sullenly from its staff, the guards with bayonets coated with the perspiration of the night, tramped briskly to and fro at the great iron gates in front as well as past the gates of the garden on Buckingham road, a half mile in the rear. The time of the appointment was past when the guard at the private entrance received the expected visitor with a comment of surprise and apology that he had not been accompanied through the gardens by the farther sentries.

"Very thoughtful and unusual, sir," he said, "and I'll report them at once." "No, no, don't do that," Bevins hastily requested. "I wished to come alone. By his majesty's permission," he added, and the man conducted him to the private audience chamber, where he was given a seat.

The prime minister entered only a few minutes later and stared hard at Bevins, evidently trying to recall whether or not they had met before, and, seeming to remember something familiar in the face, they waited without speaking until the lord of the admiralty appeared, showing from his garb that he had been compelled to hasten his coming; and then came the king.

"Gentlemen," he said, turning to the others, "this is Admiral Robert Bevins of the United States navy."

"Had he said, 'Gentlemen, here is an assassin with a pocketful of bombs,' the effect on the members of his cabinet could have been hardly less marked. Bevins bowed and extended

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS DEAD

Says Ex-Senator Hill—Bryan Responsible.

"It Makes Me Smile When I Hear Him Say 'I Have Kept the Faith,' " Says Hill.

JOHN JOHNSON IS THE MAN.

New York, June 12.—David B. Hill, former United States senator and for a long time leader of the Democratic party in this state sailed for Europe on the steamer Baltic. Discussing his retirement from active politics Hill said:

"There is no Democratic party. When I met the late Governor Altgeld in a little room up a back stairs in a small Chicago hotel shortly before the first so-called Bryan convention, I told him the policies which he (Bryan) represented would drive the Democratic party to hell. Then when he begged for another try four years later, I said:

"You are almost there; stop before you have absolutely ruined the party," but Bryan was undaunted and I saw the futility of a minority report with only ten votes to back me. "They must draw from the masses and what better man could stand than John Johnson, who spent his boyhood days in a county poor house, Think of it. Torchlight processions with banners reading 'John Johnson, the poor house candidate.'"

"And from what I have been able to learn, Johnson is more than a mere near-to-the-people candidate. He is a well balanced man and an able man. "Every time Bryan says 'I kept the faith,' it makes me smile. He has kept the faith indeed. He kept it out in Nebraska, his own state, which is now Republican to its political core. "The Democratic party never wanted Bryan. Bryan wanted the Democratic party. He forced himself on the party in 1896 and again on what was left of the party in 1900, and now in 1908 he calls himself the Democratic party, and says 'I have kept the faith.'"

NO EQUIVOCATION

one who reads this platform will be able to know exactly what it means and no voter will be expected to read into it anything which is not there.

This means that it is an endorsement of the whole policy of the administration of President Roosevelt from beginning to end, and without making any concession regarding that policy. At the same time the platform is conciliatory and conservative. With one or two exceptions it will not be considered radical even by those in the party who are opposed to it.

Many people may expect precise details as to the future policy of the party, but the framers of the platform have had constantly in mind the mistake of the people who drew the constitution of Oklahoma recently, and instead of a constitution, formulated an absurd collection of what were really statute laws. The suggested platform, while clear in every particular, avoids this mistake most noticeably.

Naturally, the platform may be divided into two sections, dealing first with the things which have been done, and then with those which the party his hand to each in turn, assuring them of his friendliness. The king himself without parley conducted them to a more private room, and offered each in turn a cigar, after which he looked inquiringly at his guest, who answered by drawing from his pocket a sealed dispatch, which he delivered. It was torn open and read in silence, passing from hand to hand, after which the admiral, without prelude, plunged into his subject.

"As will be witnessed by the dispatches I have brought, the United States wishes nothing more than complete harmony. It has been compelled for the sake of peace to adopt rather unprecedented methods, which I can assure you will at least revolutionize all methods of warfare as generally understood. The letter is to reassure his majesty."

The two members of the ministry looked at each other in strained suspense, and eagerly waited for the American to continue, which he did after brief thought, in which time he gravely studied the king's face.

"It has not been pleasant for my country to take the steps it has; but there were no other means of establishing and maintaining—perhaps forever—a continued state of peace. Gentlemen, I believe that the day of war has nearly seen its sunset. I believe if you will intrust yourselves to my care for the next few hours, under my assurance as a representative of my government and as a friend of his majesty, that no harm will come to any of you, that I can convince you of what I have said, as well as of the uselessness of strife."

promises to do. In the first division are grouped the salient features of the Roosevelt administration, and each item of the president's policy is specifically commended, and the country is congratulated upon the highly successful results of his administration.

Credit for Currency.
 Among these things is the passage of the new currency law. The platform will claim credit exclusively for the Republican party through the passage of a law which will enable the banks to supply the country with plenty of currency, when there is need for it. In the same plank the party will pledge itself to carry on a more comprehensive reform of the whole banking and currency system in the near future.

Special credit will be taken to the party for the passage of the railroad rate law. There will be a suggestion that railroads should be allowed to pool their earnings, inasmuch as the government retains the right to regulate rates.

Attention will also be called to the passage of the meat inspection and the pure food laws.

Turning to the tariff, which is the most important feature of policy of the incoming administration, the Ohio plank is adopted practically intact, but with the adoption of a declaration for the maximum and minimum tariff systems as the best means of meeting and overcoming the possible discrimination by foreign countries.

In the platform will be found, as I have previously indicated, a declaration in favor of some sort of regulation of the issue of securities by interstate railroads.

The platform will, however, make it absolutely clear that this policy does not contemplate in the remotest degree any attack upon the validity or the value of any existing securities whatsoever. The policy is distinctly assigned to the future, and is specifically said to be in the interests of the public, so that the people may safely invest in railroad securities without fear of extraordinary loss.

There is in the tentative platform a declaration in favor of the anti-injunction policy already enunciated by President Roosevelt.

One of the salient features of the Roosevelt policy which will be noted with approbation in the tentative platform, and which the party will be asked to pledge itself to continue, embraces a general scheme of inland improvement, including the creation of forest reserves, the conservation of the natural resources of the country, and the systematic and comprehensive improvement of the inland waterways. There may be no attempt to stand out for specific forest reserves, but there will be a clear declaration of policy in favor of the general principle.

Labor Planks.
 Chicago, June 12.—The fight to get labor planks in the platform is absorbing attention. Gompers arrived this afternoon and demanded full recognition of labor. He threatens if they don't include labor planks he will seek Democratic support at Denver and pledge the workmen to Bryan. Representatives of the National Manufacturers' association threaten trouble if the labor planks are included. The issue is considered so important that a leased wire has been fixed up connecting Taft in Washington with headquarters. He will be advised on all developments.

Texas for Taft.
 Chicago, June 12.—The Republican national committee reached Texas in the alphabetical list of states while deciding contests for seats on the temporary roll.

The work settled cases involving two delegates at large and twenty-two district, a total of fifty delegates. Of these Taft is certain to have forty-nine and may possibly have all fifty. The uncertain delegate hails from the Eighth district of Tennessee and it is not positively known how he will vote.

He belonged, however, to the Olliver faction in that state, the majority of whom were instructed for Taft. The contests decided came from South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

A number of Pennsylvania delegates arrived during the day and announced that Senator Knox was in the fight to a finish and the bigger the fight the brighter they believed his chance would be. R. H. Stevenson, of Ohio, who opened Foraker headquarters, made a similar statement in behalf of the Ohio senator, asserting that he would not, under any circumstances, withdraw before the end of the voting.

A statement was issued during the day from Congressman William B. McKinley, manager of the Cannon campaign, who was moved to speech by the results of the contests now before the national convention.

He advocated a new reappointment of delegates to the national convention which in effect would be a restriction of the Republicans from the south.

Secretary Dover, of the national committee, sent a letter to General J. H. Baker, of Mankato, Minn., inviting that gentleman to occupy a seat on the platform throughout the convention. Baker was a delegate with Senator Allison, of Iowa, to the Republican convention in 1856, from the Ninth Ohio district. It was at this convention that John C. Fremont was nominated for the presidency.

This courtesy has been extended to Baker for the last eight years.

Fine Cigars in a Fine Case

It is an old saying that "clothes do not make the man," but when it comes to cigars, and the facilities for storing them and keeping them in condition, the reverse is true. You can take the best cigar in the world and, unless it is kept just moist enough, the bouquet is entirely lost.

We have just installed the finest and largest cigar case and humidor in West Kentucky. The growth of our cigar business and the immense stock which we carry made it necessary. More than ever, ours is

TOBACCO NEWS

Virginia Branch Dropped.

Guthrie, Ky., June 12.—It was decided at the Planters' Protective association meeting that the barbecue at Guthrie should not be held this year. Last year was the first time that the barbecue was called off since the organization was formed. The committee took the position that if a barbecue was held at Guthrie for the entire association it would cost not less than $10,000 and that at least $100,000 would be spent by the members in railroad fare and hotel bills in getting to and from the meeting. It was suggested that if they so desired each county could hold a barbecue for its own members and thus do more real good and at a greatly reduced expense than would be possible if the big meeting at Guthrie was held.

From reports made, the association will handle about 55,000 hogheads of tobacco this season, a big increase over any previous season and which thoroughly demonstrates that the organization controls the crop of the dark district. About 47,000 hogheads have already been graded and are now on sale, while the sales aggregate about one-third of this amount.

The matter of whether or not the Virginia branch of the association should be dropped was again brought up for consideration, and it was decided that the relation heretofore existing between that branch of the association and parent body should be severed. Before this can be finally brought about many details, which will necessarily require time for getting them in shape, will have to be attended to. This question has been before the committee for some time and has been considered before but this is the first official action that has been taken.

WATCH CHAIN SAVES LIFE.

Missouri Rams Relic in Rifle and Slays Charging Catamount.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., June 12.—Attacked by a huge catamount ten miles south of here, E. Emory, a timberman, fired every bullet he had in a squirrel rifle without bringing the animal down.

The animal closed in on him and would probably have killed him had not Emory thought of his watch chain composed of bullets he had saved while a private in the first Tennessee regiment in Manila.

Jerking off the watch chain, Emory loaded his rifle, using powder from his horn flask, and succeeded in killing the animal just as it was lunging toward him.

PADUCAH TRAINMEN DID NOT RESPOND TO CALL.

Trainmen of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, with headquarters in Paducah, are congratulating themselves upon their good judgment in not obeying orders to quit their jobs, since it has become known that the conference of union officials with General Manager Thomas at Nashville did not result favorably for the trainmen, and that those who went out will not be reinstated. The Paducah trainmen refused to go out because they were not given a vote on the question at all, and it is also claimed that there was no real cause for the strike.

War Develops Nations.

From the horrors of war have come many benefits unexpected at the time. China will yet come to bless the day that she was beaten by Japan. The blood and agony of the civil war made America a nation. Italian unity had its foundation in the humiliation of Novara. France made her way to rightful among the nations from the miseries of Sedan and the Commune Wellington used to consider that the greatness of modern British arms owed its birth to Charles I. and efficacy of naval administration to James II. For good or ill, it is from the stricken fields of the Crimea that Russia's present greatness dates. She stood alone against the world. Her exchequer was empty, her paper no longer accepted. The great empire built up by such labor and pain, was within measurable distance of dissolution. Sebastopol fell; Finland and Poland were on the verge of breaking away; all looked at his blackest. The conditions imposed in the peace treaty were humiliating in the extreme but by one Russia slid out of them. The tremendous development which has taken place in Russia dates solely from that dark hour when all seemed so nearly lost. To say that right over might has triumphed would be another matter.—London St. James Gazette.

Notice.

There will be a call meeting held tomorrow evening at 2 o'clock sharp at Mrs. Mike Isenman's to arrange for an ice cream supper to be given by Manchester Grove, No. 29, on next Monday night. All members are urged to be present.

Switchman Pinched.

Tree Life.
Brazilian coconut palms live for 600 to 700 years, and the Arabs assert that the date frequently reaches the age of 200 to 300 years. Wallan's oak near Paisley, Scotland, is known to be more than 700 years old, and there are eight olive trees on the Mount of Olives, near Jerusalem, which are known to have been flourishing in 1099. The yews at Pountains Abbey, Yorkshire, were old trees when in 1132 the abbey was built, and a redwood in Mariposa Grove, California, is a manifold centenarian. Baobab trees of Africa have been computed to be more than 5,000 years old, and the deciduous cypress at Chapultepec is considered to be of still a greater age. Hum-

DUBLIN JEWELS ARE RETURNED

Pawnbroker Takes Them to Ireland.

Nobleman in Debt Was Accused of Taking Them in Order to Speculate.

ARE RELEASED FOR $90,000

London.—Though Scotland Yard disclaims any knowledge of the transaction and though Chief Secretary Birrell has diplomatically denied it in parliament, it can be stated as a fact that the stolen regalia jewels are back in Dublin castle.

The jewels whose theft from the office of the ulster king of arms in Dublin castle was discovered in July 1907, have been released from a pawn shop in London for over $90,000 (their value has been set down at $300,000) and have been taken to Ireland by the senior member of the firm of pawnbrokers.

It is understood that the money for the release of the stolen regalia was put up by a newly created nobleman, who has been given a household berth for the accommodation.

It was hoped that this transaction would definitely close the unhappy and mysterious affair. To the contrary, it seems to have given it new life, and now an Irish barrister, a kinsman of Sir Arthur Vickers, has applied to a magistrate for an arraignment of the viceroys and chief secretary of Ireland on the charge of compounding a felony.

Made Scapegoat.
Of course the magistrate refuses to give the barrister a hearing, and the English papers do not even give his name.

Pierce O'Mahoney, the half-brother of Sir Arthur Vickers, has never faltered in his belief that his kinsman, in addition to having been dismissed for negligence in office has been allowed to lie under a stigma of disgraceful and sordid conduct, and further that he has been made a scapegoat to shield a lot of disreputables who have brought shame to Dublin castle circles.

Mrs. O'Mahoney declares that in the hubbub caused over the theft of the jewels Chief Secretary Birrell wrote to the king, reporting upon the conditions, and included Sir Arthur Vickers in the list of undesirables. He asked his majesty for power to clear out the whole lot and reconstruct the office.

Offered a Pension.
Afterward Mr. Birrell discovered that he had made a mistake with regard to Sir Arthur, but would not acknowledge the fact to the king. He asked Vickers to resign and got a refusal. Then he got the under secretary for Ireland to have a chat with Sir Arthur's solicitor which was to induce the solicitor to advise Vickers to go out. The plan did not work.

Then in despair the chief secretary offered Vickers a pension if he would go but Pierce O'Mahoney refused to allow his half-brother to take the bribe, and insisted upon fighting the case.

Then came the star chamber inquiry to decide whether Sir Arthur had been negligent and his dismissal followed.

Shrewd Inspector.

Now it is declared a police inspector of London visited Dublin castle and found that a person who had access to Sir Arthur's keys had taken a wax impression of the key to the safe in which the jewels were kept. The inspector also found out that about the time of the robbery the man in question was in need of a very substantial sum of money and the police theory was that the jewels were pawned for a loan in the hope that a certain financial deal would enable the culprit to redeem the jewels.

Following this theory the inspector announced that he could locate both jewels and the culprit, but the too clever policeman was ordered to halt.

Events have justified the inspector.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

DOGS TRAIL

NIGHT RIDERS TO RESIDENCE OF JOHN WEBSTER.

Newcastle Outrage Followed by Quick Arrests of Three Suspects—Three Farms Visited.

New Castle, Ky., June 12.—John Webster and his two sons Noah and James Webster, were arrested this afternoon at their home near New Castle on the charge of being night riders. Last night the tobacco beds of W. T. Jaines were scraped and a grave was dug in the center of one of the beds.

The authorities sent to Shelbyville for bloodhounds. The dogs arrived this afternoon and immediately took a trail which led to the Webster home. Deputy Sheriff Clemons placed the Websters under arrest and they were brought to New Castle, where Judge Hill admitted them to bail in the sum of $5,000 each.

Judge Hill Sends for Dogs.
The arrests were due to the action of Judge Hill. On learning of the scraping of Mr. Gaines' beds Judge Hill at once sent for the bloodhounds of Fox and Duncan at Shelbyville.

The owners came with the dogs. They measured the footprints around the beds and turned the dogs loose. The four-footed detectives immediately ran to the home of the accused men.

The bondsmen are Dr. I. W. McGinnis and Dr. A. G. Elliston, who are members of the Equity Society. The Websters are tenants of Dr. McGinnis.

Besides the charge of destroying tobacco beds the Websters are accused of wrecking a tobacco planter belonging to Mr. Gaines. They will be arraigned for this alleged offense tomorrow.

Judge Hill says he will do all in his power to investigate the outrage and says he is determined to put an end to lawlessness in Henry county.

Three Farms Visited.
Milton, Ky., June 12.—Night riders did their first work in this section of Trimble county last night. Tobacco plant beds on the farms of Taylor Alexander, I. T. Spillman, Mike Brinston and Dora Gings were destroyed.

These farms are in the western section of Trimble county. From the footprints of men and horses, it is believed the party of raiders was large. The night riders escaped without being seen. Independent farmers are aroused and it is said they have planned to retaliate.

Weight of a Cord.

A man once backed himself for a large amount, which he subsequently lost, to move an ordinary brick attached to two miles of cord along a level road outside of Chester.

He failed to move the brick, and it may be roughly estimated that the friction of the cord on the road increased the weight of the brick (about seven pounds) and a cord to a dead weight of nearly a ton.—Exchange.

ANOTHER WIFE

APPEARS AND CLAIMS DAVIS' INSURANCE MONEY.

Former Superintendent of Lighting Plant Had Three Wives in His Time.

If stories published in Owensboro newspapers are true, W. E. Davis, formerly superintendent of the Paducah light plant, who recently died at Owensboro and left insurance policies amounting to $3,000, was a much married man, as already three wives or their heirs are claimants for the insurance. Suit was filed Monday by the daughter of Davis' first wife to recover insurance paid the woman with whom he was living at the time of his death, the grounds for the suit being that Davis and the woman were never married. Yesterday Mrs. Lucy E. Wilson, of Indianapolis, appeared on the scene and made the claim that she was the legal wife of Davis and was therefore entitled to participate in the benefits of the insurance.

A Lazy Liver

may be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or fabled appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," yawning or distressing feeling in stomach, serious nausea, "water" or "rings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot breads and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to it until you are vigorous and strong. The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised. Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

Little Ills of Children

Mothers and all others who have children, and the house cannot do these families a better service than to learn of simple and reliable remedies that correct children's ailments. Many grown people are suffering today for the ignorance or negligence of those who had charge of their bringing up.

Children are prone to constipation,
and if it isn't corrected early, the bowels get in the habit of not working normally and soon chronic constipation results that may last off and on all through life. Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, or stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. To say that it will right itself is putting altogether too much faith in chance. It is trying with the child's present and future health.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and nothing better for the purpose is known than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It never grips but is as gentle and as it has a pleasant taste but it is not to be taken in a large quantity of a bottle of your druggist and save the child from sickness. You should remember that a child whose stomach is in good working order is not likely to catch colds and fever diseases.

Mrs. Curry, of Trowbridge, Ill., attributes the remarkable health of her child to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she gives regularly in these disorders. Mrs. Eversole, of Hinsdale, Ill., is frank to say that the present good condition of her five-year-old boy is entirely due to this wonderful remedy. Try it in your own family and see if you cannot share these opinions. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for.

FREE TEST
Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who never used it. Send for it if you have any of the symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Get relief yet most effective. Suitable for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE

ALDRICH AND HALE GO OVER TO TAFT

Maine Senator's Son Decided Matter For Him.

Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, National Leader of His Party.

SOCIETY AT THE CONVENTION.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—The manner in which the so-called "allies" or opposition to the nomination of William H. Taft, as the standard bearer of the Republican party, has, in a large measure, abated has been a revelation to many of those who came here to watch the convention preliminaries, but have not had a close view of the situation, as it has been developing, from time to time, at the national capital, which, until a few days ago, was the center for all political activity in the United States.

Admittedly two of the leading men of the party in the country and in the United States are Senators Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and Hale, of Maine.
They have been popularly believed to be opponents of the national administration in most of its advanced policies, and also of the movement to name Mr. Taft as the head of the Republican ticket.

Now, it can be said that for months past Senator Aldrich has pointed to the Taft movement as the real band wagon, and told his close friends that they should get aboard if they were looking for the real thing in band wagons and for the finest upholstery and the best seats.

How Senator Hale Was Converted.

Almost every one on the ground
now knows that the present conciliatory attitude of the "allies" is due in large part to the understanding which was reached between Senators Aldrich and Hale and Mr. Taft in a Sunday night conference a week ago at the national capital. The manner of Senator Hale's conversion to the Taft cause is interesting and out of the ordinary. Senator Hale has been recognized as one of the strongest critics of President Roosevelt in the ranks of the party, and most of New England was ready to follow his lead.
Those who know the senator personally are well acquainted with his crusty dictatorial manner and way of overriding opposition whenever he meets it. He was for a long time not only a thorn in the side of the national administration, but a serious problem for the Taft propaganda.

Finally, Eugene Hale, son of the senator, heard so much of the growth of the Taft boom and Taft sentiment, that he decided to go down to Washington and look over the situation. He did so. He not only saw the political leaders at the capitol, but went to see the Taft managers and the president, and Mr. Taft, himself, seeking the true light. He decided that the nomination of Mr. Taft was inevitable and told his father so. The senator was greatly enraged; insisted that his son knew nothing of the real situation and rejected his advice to get on the "band wagon." The son listened to all his father had to say and then returned to Maine.

Took His Son's Advice.

A week or so later there was a political mass meeting in Maine, at which the younger Hale was to make a speech. To the surprise of everyone, he flatly declared his belief that the nomination of Mr. Taft was inevitable; stated without reservation that he favored it and pledged his father to the same course. Senator Hale was furious and, as soon as he read the press accounts of his son's action, sent him a sizzling telegram reprimanding him and expressing displeasure at his course. The son only answered, "Wait two days before you reprimand me publicly." That was sufficient. Letters and telegrams and editorial expressions flowed in on the senator approving his course so strongly that to this day he has not reprimanded his son but has naturally fallen in with the Taft plans and recently has co-operated with the Taft leaders.

Crane as a Leader

The strength and leadership of Senator Winthrop Murray Crane in the United States senate, where it is believed he is the logical successor of Senator Aldrich as the head of the Republican party organization, has

DISTINCT STEP IN ADVANCE

(Auburn, N. Y., Daily Citizen).
Chronic Bright's Disease may have been an incurable disease in the past, but it is certainly curable now. M.
L. Walley, the druggist, tells us of a remarkable recovery in this city.
There was no question about the genuineness of the case. The patient, a lady, is connected with one of our prominent families. She was in a hospital swollen with dropsy, and the albumen was in such enormous quantities as to solidify in the tube.
Death was expected daily by the physician and family, when she was put on a California treatment that was alleged to be curing Bright's disease in that state. The results created great astonishment. Symptoms began to subside and recovery was then gradual till finally complete.
The patient has since actually passed for insurance.

The peculiarity of the treatment is that it does not seem to wear out,
the patient in question taking over 50 bottles.—Auburn, N. Y., Daily magazine press. Here it is apparent that he is to lead, within his own party, even though his present association is with the allies, who are popularly believed to have the losing end of the situation. He is mild of manner, soft of voice and inconspicuous in personal appearance. He is seen but little in the corridors of the hotels and most of the conferences with his associates are during the sessions of the national committee, at which he is a constant attendant, or at the Chicago club, where he always dines.

Society at Convention.

Washington, June 12.—Washington official society is to be largely represented at the national Republican convention in Chicago and the big Coliseum, where the sessions are to be held, will look much like the senate galleries on the opening day of congress. Miss Louise Foraker is one of the attractive members of the younger set who will attend the proceedings, and Miss Hemenway, daughter of Senator Hemenway, will be another conspicuous figure.

Naturally, the most interesting visitor of all will be Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of the president, who with her husband, will be a member of a house party of which Mrs. Joseph Medill McCormick, formerly Miss
Ruth Hanna, will be hostess. Mrs.
Longworth's political tendencies have become more and more manifest since she became the wife of Representative Longworth.

Mrs. Murray Crane, formerly Miss Josephine Boardman of this city, has for several years been known as a keen political student. In fact, it has often been said that it was her clear insight into political subjects that first attracted the attention of Senator Crane. Mrs. Crane will also go to the convention to follow the activities of her husband, who is closely identified with the preliminary work.
Mrs. Taft will not go to Chicago.
Mrs. Herbert Parsons, Mrs. Chancey M. Depew and Mrs. Albert J. Beveridge, formerly Miss Katherine Eddy are others of the smart Washington colony who will forego the pleasures of the early days at the seashore to follow the fate of the various candidates at Chicago.

He Got What He Needed.

my time had come," says Mr. C.
Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter.

on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I tric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since."

PROHIBS EXPECT TO MAKE GAINS

Think That Many Democrats
Will Vote Prohibition.

Bryan Says He Thinks Question Will
Not Be Made Issue By Either Party.

POSITION MAY CAUSE SLUMP

Milwaukee, June 12.—Claiming to expect great gains in the south, with a possible victory in all southern prohibition states, State Chairman Alonso Wilson, of Illinois, declared
as a foundation of this expectation the alleged opposition on the part of Bryan to prohibition. This declaration was made before the Wisconsin state prohibition convention.

"In 1890," said Wilson, "Bryan
stumped Nebraska against the prohibition amendment to the Nebraska constitution, and I have in my possession a copy of a letter from Bryan to southern men who desired a plank for prohibition in the Democratic national platform in which Bryan declares if his wishes are followed there will be no such plank in the platform."

As Bryan is in control of the Democratic party, his platform desires will undoubtedly control in the Democratic national convention and therefore no prohibition plank can be expected from that convention.

Wilson said this was the expectation of the southern delegates who had been looking into the subject and he said he was to leave for the south this evening to confer with some leading prohibition Democrats there about their support for the prohibition party if no prohibition plank were inserted in the Denver platform.

Bryan Explains.

Lincoln, Neb., June 12.—Referring to the dispatch from Milwaukee concerning his attitude on prohibition, Bryan said:

"I have received many letters from prohibitionists and many from opponents of prohibition and I have answered all in the same way.
"I have told them I did not regard
the question as a national question.
While it is an issue in a number of states, I do not expect it to be made an issue by either the Republicans or Democratic national convention. I have made it a rule not to discuss questions outside of the platform, because the candidate has no right to inject the issues which his platform excludes. In answer to the questions about my own record on the subject, I have stated that so far as my personal habits go, I am a teetotaler,
never having used liquor as a beverage, but in 1890 I voted against the state prohibition amendment because I thought the license system we had,
with local option, was better suited to the conditions we had to meet in our state."

"When an attempt has been made to draw conclusions from this as to what ought to be done in other states
I have called attention to the fact that state laws ought to be made to meet the conditions existing in the state and that what I did in Nebraska could not be a guide in states where conditions were different.
"In other words, I have refused to give advice on the question in other states because I am not sufficiently informed as to the conditions in various states and I have refused to discuss it as a national question, because, as I have said, I do not expect it to be an issue in this campaign."

Great Contest Weather. And still the contest goes on at top speed; candidates still reap large harvests as a result of the beautiful weather; votes still roll in in large quantities and many are enabled to more than vote the limit every evening. It's certainly great contest weather, a trifle warm perhaps during the middle of the day but cool in the morning and in the evening and an occasional shower to settle the dust. Every one seems to be taking advantage of it and as a result it is going to be a close race for the week's prize—$30 worth of furniture from the stock of the F. N. Gardner, Jr., Co.

And this week there are going to be more than two at the top. The way things are going now it looks as if there are going to be a dozen within a short range of each other—and we would like to give them all prizes but our awards so far have exceeded our own as well as your expectations and if we endeavored to place prizes with all who deserve them, with all who are very near the top, every furniture van in the city would be busy Monday. We are going to give them a lot of bonus votes, however, 3,000 votes for every $25 turned in by candidates. And those 3,000 will help some.

Get Busy. Don't waste your time. Don't waste another's. In the hustle. Don't get dizzy. If not for what you want on earth. For others' sakes. Get Busy.

That's the idea, get busy, keep busy—and number yourself among the winners at the end of the contest, if not this week. There are only three more weeks after this; the contest is half over; how do you stand today? How are you coming out in the end? It's up to you. The busy candidates are going to be the winning candidates; the busy candidates have busy friends; busy candidates and busy friends make votes, make busy-ness. Make the contest your business, make it a pleasant occupation, make it a paying investment, so that at the end you may be substantially rewarded with one of the eighteen excellent prizes.

Who Are Eligible? Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards. The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts. The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway. District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway. District 3 comprises all of the ter-

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.

Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $400.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolff's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $300 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 207-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank—a $65 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

The right is reserved to alter these rules should necessity demand.

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes, a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Burford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

Three additional prizes for the three districts are added and two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College, offering the choice of nine courses. These prizes will be awarded in the three different districts so that candidates receiving the second highest number of votes in their respective districts may choose one of these scholarships instead of the merchandise prize. Should the second highest candidates not desire one of these scholarships, the third highest candidates may choose them. If these two classes do not wish the scholarships they will be awarded to the fourth highest candidates in the three districts.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

LIMIT QUANTITY

STANDARD OIL COMPANY MAY KEEP IN CITY OF PADUCAH.

General Council Will Act on Ordinance, Requiring Removal of Tanks Outside City.

To show that the city officers have at heart only the protection of the citizens' lives and property, and not the persecution of any business interest, the ordinance committee at the regular meeting last night directed City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., to draw up an ordinance, limiting the storage of oil in the city limits. Before the ordinance is prepared, Mr. Campbell will have a consultation with Captain J. W. Tyler, manager of the Paducah agency of the Standard Oil company so that no undue hardship may be occasioned.

It is probable that the ordinance will require the company to remove the large storage tanks as well as the storage house out of the city limits, but will permit the company to use its building at Tenth and Monroe streets as a distributing house. The company may be allowed to keep on hand an amount of oil necessary to supply any moderate demand, but in no larger quantities than retailers keep. Another suggestion brought before the committee was that if the company wants tanks in the city limits, any buildings erected in the vicinity must be placed a safe number of feet away from the tanks.

FORGERY

INDICTMENT AGAINST FORMER BARDWELL CITIZEN.

G. Y. Carol Accused of Passing Notes With Unauthorized Signatures.

Bardwell, Ky., June 12.—The Carroll county grand jury returned three bills against G. Y. Carol, a former citizen of this place, charging him with forgery. Carol gave three notes, and to each note was attached the name of M. G. Phipps, who is Carol's father-in-law, and who says that he never signed the notes and never authorized any one else to sign them. One of these notes was payable to the Lewis Mercantile company, of Cairo, and was for $58.52. The other two were made to the First National bank, of Bardwell, one of them being for $50 and the other one for $40. Carol is said to be living in Graves county at present.

HOME PORT

REACHED BY JOHN HAMILTON, THE SHIPBUILDER.

Passed Quietly Away Yesterday After Week's Illness of Paralysis, in This City.

Port was reached by the life-ship of John Hamilton, 47 years old, one of Paducah's best known ship builders, who died Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Anna Kennedy, 215 South Second street. He had been sick a week from paralysis and was in a critical condition until his death.

Paducah had been John Hamilton's home for 23 years, since he came from Pittsburg, Tenn. Ever since he had lived in Paducah he had boarded at the one place, first with Mrs. Philip Best and then with her daughter, Mrs. Kennedy. Three years ago he became an officer on the steamer Shiloh in the upper Tennessee river and last Christmas came to Paducah for a rest, living here quietly until he died. He carried insurance and had accumulated some wealth. The funeral was conducted this afternoon from the home; the services being said by the Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

"But you can't expect this play to make a hit," protested the manager. "Why not?" asked the ambitious young dramatist. "Don't you think it has enough situations?" "Oh, yes, the story is one that might be discussed in anybody's parlor."—Chicago Record-Herald.

WOMAN'S SCREAM

FRIGHTENS AWAY BURGLAR, WHO IS SHOT AT.

Third Attempt Made in Vicinity of Tenth and Jones Streets Arouses People.

While standing on the back porch preparing to force a back door, an unknown negro was discovered by Mrs. Mallinda Flynn at the residence of Herman Katterjohn, 1908 Jones street, last night shortly after dark. She screamed and Gus Katterjohn fired a shot at the fleeing thief, but failed to hit his mark. The family was sitting on the front porch at the time of the attempted robbery. This is the third time that burglars have tried to enter houses in that vicinity. Patrolmen Owen and Eich are watching for the thief.

Wallerstein Says:

A stronger quartette of clothing values was never offered to dollar-wise Paducah men than those which are now being featured—each one of them would be impressive from the extent of the reduction alone even if the superb quality of the garments were not considered.
